The 4-day delegation trip was a curated blend of cultural exploration and corporate insights, ideal for our members and business partners eager to discover eastern China's dynamic landscape.

Our journey began in Wuxi, where participants visited the magnificent Lingshan Giant Buddhist Temple at sunset and checked into the Rocase Hotel where we had local culinary delights with a genuine taste of Jiangsu's gastronomic traditions (the memorable pigeon was a special treat). We were treated to Rocase's specially arranged Ancient Canal Cruise, immersing ourselves in the city's natural beauty and spiritual heritage with beautiful rendition of Chinese songs with a Pipa.

We then moved to Suzhou, famous for its classical water towns and scenic Yangcheng Lake. We enjoyed authentic hairy crabs, a seasonal specialty, the famous Suzhou Pingtan and took a relaxing hand-cranked boat ride to experience Suzhou's iconic canal scenery with a special serenade from the boatwoman on our boat as we swayed and rocked with the boat.

A key business highlight is a site visit to Yihai Kerry Arawana Holdings Co., offering valuable industry exposure and networking opportunities. Most grateful again to Arawana for the thoughtful goody bag containing sample products (not yet readily available in HK) that each delegate got to bring back to HK.

Luxury accommodation was provided throughout: the Rocase Hotel in Wuxi with their impressive team who looked after us and the elegant M Social Hotel in Suzhou ensured comfort and convenience after each day's activities. This exclusive trip was a balance of leisure, culture, and business, making it perfect for expanding professional networks while exploring two of China's most vibrant cities.

HAINAN ODYSSEY : SPACE EXPLORATION AND BUSINESS HORIZONS

The 4-day trip ran from 13–16 November 2025, combining industry visits, policy insights, culture and premium networking across Haikou, Wenchang, Boao and Sanya.

We arrived into Haikou and upon arrival at the Westin Hotel; we had light lunch (a choice of either Hainan chicken rice, braised beef noodle soup set or pork dumplings) before attending the Hainan Free Trade Port–Malaysia Economic and Trade Meeting, followed by a networking dinner hosted by the China Council for the Promotion of Trade Hainan Committee. The evening included visits to a CDF duty-free shop and the Whisky Museum with the most impressive library and collection of whisky.

Day two focused on aerospace and urban planning. We toured the Hainan Chronicles Museum and Jiangdong New District Exhibition Centre, then visited Wenchang's International Commercial Aerospace Launch Centre, Aerospace Education Centre and Supercomputing Centre for insights into China's commercial space sector. The day ended with a dinner of iconic Wenchang Chicken before checking into a beautiful boutique Boao hotel.

On day three, we explored Boao Lecheng International Medical Tourism Pilot Zone, learning about advanced medical devices and wellness services. In Sanya, we visited the Research Centre for Deep-Sea Bioresources, followed by a beachfront VIP BBQ buffet at Sanya Marriott Resort, where we stayed overnight. A shout-out to GP Yeow (current GM of JWMarriott) for his personal support with the Sanya Marriott Resort team for the complimentary coconuts, welcome garland and...super spicy stir-fried bullfrog (NB: not part of the buffet menu but a surprise treat).

The final day included a visit to Haitang Bay CDF Duty-Free Shop, with a meeting with operators to discuss offshore duty-free policies. This exclusive eye-opening journey connected us all through aerospace, medical tourism, deep-sea tech and free trade opportunities, delivering actionable market insights for all delegates.

Rising Fortunes and Shared Horizons: The 2026 RCEP Lo Hei Dinner

By Fenn Ho

The JW Marriott Grand Ballroom buzzed with electric energy on 9 March 2026 as we hosted our annual RCEP Lo Hei Dinner—a hallmark of the MAYCHAM calendar. More than a festive gathering, this event brought together regional business leaders, policymakers, and visionaries to welcome the Year of the Horse with shared goals and a collective drive for growth.

We were privileged to host our Special Guest of Honour, Mr. Bao Haibin, from the Office of the Commissioner of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the PRC in the HKSAR. His insightful remarks underscored the importance of collaborative growth and stronger commercial ties across the regional market.

The ballroom ignited with the traditional Lion Dance Eye Dotting Ceremony. Our Chairman, Datuk Wira Song Hoi See, Mr. Bao Haibin, our Patron and Consul General of Malaysia in HK and Macao, Mr. Muzambli Markam, and our Chairman Mentor, Dato' KC Gan, stepped forward to awaken the festive spirits. To the sound of thundering drums, vibrant lions—matched to our MAYCHAM logo and the Malaysian flag—danced through the crowd, filling the space with positive energy.

Then came the highlight: our collective Lo Hei Ceremony. In a lively blur of raised chopsticks and joyful shouts of “Lo Hei!”, the room tossed the salad high together. This ritual perfectly captured our shared ambitions for the RCEP markets—a belief that the higher the toss, the greater the luck and prosperity for our community.

Guests enjoyed a masterfully crafted menu, ranging from traditional cod fish maw soup to thoughtful vegetarian alternatives, complemented by the excitement of discovering premium wine prizes courtesy of MyiCellar. We extend our deepest gratitude to our visionary partners for making this memorable night possible. With strong alliances, MAYCHAM is ready to ride into this new lunar year with momentum.

WiN BREAKFAST TALK – The Will & the Way to Setting & Achieving Goals: Neuroscience Approach with Chin Teik – 22 Oct

MAYCHAM WiN kicked off the day with a power-packed Breakfast Talk & Action-Learning Session led by renowned Coach Chin Teik. In this energising, hands-on morning, participants unlocked practical, neuroscience-backed tools to rediscover their inner drive, sharpen focus, and outsmart distractions, leaving everyone inspired and ready to level-up both personally and professionally. Member Kelly Liew, Counsellor & Life Coach, summed it up perfectly: "It was a fantastic refresher for me. Reminding me to pause, reflect, and rethink in working better on many things in life that are relevant. The tools and learnings will certainly help me adding better values working with my clients and improving life in general. I would think every organisation will benefit from this... Embracing a neuroscience approach, which I am a believer in, can better enhance performance for individuals and teams at work, in a healthier and positive way. When they thrive, the corporate thrives. Been really good learning, unlearning and relearning! Thank you Chin Teik!"

WiN-Stablecoins and Real World Asset tokenisation: Gateways to Financial Inclusion – 15 Jan

WiN hosted a panel discussion at Prince's Building, Central, HK. Building on MAYCHAM's successful "Turning Gold into Yield" event, the session critically examined whether stablecoins and Real World Asset (RWA) tokenisation can genuinely drive financial inclusion, improve cross-border payments, and unlock asset liquidity – or if they are simply the latest hype. It was a valuable opportunity for professionals to network, gain insights into cutting-edge fintech trends, and engage in meaningful dialogue on diversity, equality, and inclusion in finance. Many thanks to our speakers and our moderator Ms Christina Pantin who spent her birthday evening to support this event.

M2M Part 2 – WiN x YPM Mentorship Programme

Started last July under the leadership of May Tan and combining efforts with Matthew Thew in September, facilitated professional growth through 1-to-1 pairings. It bridges generations by encouraging knowledge exchange, fostering cultural competency, and empowering both seasoned leaders and emerging talent to build meaningful connections and gain fresh perspectives within the business community.

First pairing is a special one with our WiN Subcommittee Donna Buckland with our WiN Sponsor May Tan. Next is our, WiN/Membership Subcommittee Matthew Thew with our MAYCHAM EXCO, also Head of MAYCHAM Students Trust Fund Gina Wong. Followed by the pairing of our YPM with our talented, leaders in MAYCHAM i.e. Marcos Chow, Esther, Ow, Victoria De Alwis, Clare Muhiudeen, Brian Henderson, Zen Pin Liow, Caroline Lim and Joe Ng.

There is a rare, profound grace in leaders who are genuinely approachable—those who share their time and wisdom without hesitation. Recently, I had the privilege of dining with May Tan through the MAYCHAM WiN M2M programme. Her calm demeanour and incisive insight left an indelible impression on me.

Earlier this year, I toured the Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited (HKEX), a hub of financial dynamism. Walking through its Museum of Finance, I saw names of visionary leaders who have sculpted our markets. Among them was the former CEO I have come to know personally—an iconic figure whose leadership has been pivotal to Hong Kong's financial landscape.

I first met May at an industry talk in 2017. Her story moved me so deeply that I invited her to speak at my own organisation. To this day, I recall the impact her words had on my journey as a working mum. As the first female CEO of Hong Kong's note-printing bank, May's influence is extraordinary. Under her leadership, the bank achieved numerous "firsts," including the launch of Hong Kong's first digital teller.

What moved me most during our dinner, however, was her humility. She seemed almost unaware of the magnitude of her legacy. Yet, her outreach has touched countless lives—the true measure of greatness. Reflecting on this, I am reminded that leadership is less about status and more about service. Leaders who remain accessible cultivate a ripple effect that shapes communities for generations. Their greatness is quietly profound, revealed not in awards, but in the growth and inspiration of those they lead.

By Donna Buckland

I am incredibly grateful for the opportunity to participate in the WiN x YPM mentorship programme as a mentee to Gina Wong. Over two sessions, Gina shared her wisdom and entrepreneurial journey, offering me a masterclass in leadership, innovation, and culture.

Our first meeting was a visit to Gina's office, Make the Right Call, in Kwai Fong. Touring the facility, I learned how she founded the business in 2003, growing it from a small team to an impressive organisation of over 400 employees. A key takeaway was her belief in a flat organisational structure, which fosters open communication and collaboration.

This people-first philosophy was evident in every detail, from installing wider seats to promote inclusivity to reserving a corner with the best view for a staff chill-and-exercise area. We also discussed the company's breakthrough in pioneering 24/7 call centre services in Hong Kong. Gina stressed that this success relied on rigorous compliance and standard operating procedures to maintain client confidentiality.

For our second meeting, we reconvened at Café Malacca to discuss my ideas about venturing into business in Malaysia, spanning education, property services, and healthcare. Gina's advice was both strategic and grounding. We agreed on the necessity of leveraging Artificial Intelligence to drive innovation, but she emphasised that the core of any venture must be something I am truly passionate about. While she was candid about the inevitability of hurdles, she encouraged a solution-oriented mindset and the importance of a strong team. As a concrete next step, she suggested I connect with MATRADE for further insights.

These sessions have been immensely enriching. My heartfelt thanks to Gina for her invaluable mentorship. I look forward to applying these lessons as I continue to shape my professional path.

By Matthew Thew

Hearing Esther Ow's success story up close was a privilege. She started her investment banking career as a management trainee two decades ago, rose quickly into regional leadership, and now runs a mortgage-backed finance business. Her advice for young professionals was refreshingly practical – believe in yourself, work hard, and invest in relationships.

The last point resonated most with me. In an age shaped by AI, technical skills can be automated, but trust, empathy, and the human touch will not be replaced. Across three investment banks and five countries, Esther has earned her place as a trusted risk and investment advisor to clients for more than 20 years. I am grateful to the Women Internal Network (WiN) x Young Professional Member Mentorship Programme for the chance to meet Esther and learn from her – By Benedict Low
